ARGUMENT

The United States of America, by and through the United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York ("the Government"), respectfully submits this memorandum in opposition to Flagstar Bank's motion to lift the stay of proceedings as to all defendants except Live Well Financial, Inc.

Plaintiff Flagstar Bank moves to lift the stay because the trial in the criminal case has concluded. To be sure, on April 30, 2021, Hild was convicted of all five counts in the Indictment following a three-week jury trial. See United States v. Hild, 19 Cr. 602 (Dkt. Entry No. 70). However, in its motion, Flagstar Bank neglects to mention that Hild has since filed a motion for a judgment of acquittal or a new trial, pursuant to Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure 29 and 33 (the "New Trial Motion"). See United States v. Hild, 19 Cr. 602 (Dkt. Entry No. 104). Among other things, Hild has argued that a new trial is warranted because his trial counsel rendered ineffective assistance of counsel due to un-waived conflicts of interest. See id. at 15-29. The Government opposed the New Trial Motion (Dkt. Entry No. 118), and it is currently under advisement by the Court. The Court has adjourned the sentencing of Michael Hild, sine die, until the New Trial Motion has been decided. See Dkt. Entry No. 109.

Because of the possibility of a new trial, there is no basis to lift the stay while the New Trial Motion is pending. Allowing discovery now would implicate the same concerns addressed in the Government's initial motion to stay. See Government's Motion to Stay, Dkt. Entry No. 25 at 12-14. Principally, Hild could still use this action to circumvent criminal discovery rules. See Stockwell v. Hamilton, 2016 WL 3438108, at *4 (E.D. Mich. June 23, 2016) ("A stay protects the United States' interest in preventing discovery in the civil case from being used to circumvent the more limited scope of discovery in the criminal proceedings."). Moreover, a stay of the civil proceeding remains in the Court's interest, as the outcome of the criminal case, once concluded, could directly affect the conduct, scope, and result of this civil proceeding. S.E.C. v. Contorinis, No. 09 Civ. 1043 (RJS), 2012 WL 512626, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 3, 2012) ("Courts in this district have consistently found that a defendant convicted of securities fraud in a criminal proceeding is collaterally estopped from relitigating the underlying facts in a subsequent civil proceeding").

CONCLUSION

For the reasons just given, the Government respectfully requests that Flagstar Bank's motion to lift the stay be denied.
